The part of the line in Baltimore is about four miles long, while there is a considerable part within the District of Columbia. The cars will naturally have to run much slower over these sections than on the main line, and then there will be more stops than are made by the steam cars. It is believed, however, that the running time can be reduced after the road has been in operation for a time. President George T. Bishop, of Cleveland, says he sees no reason why the line should not be running by the date originally set-July 1 of this year. Work on the road is now more than 60 per cent completed.

MARK TWAIN HAPPY AGAIN.

Humorist Tells New Year's Party Guests He Enjoys Himself. New York, Jan. 1 .- Mark Twain, the youthful threescore year and then some humorist, gave one of the most successful New Year's parties last night and this morning that marked the celebration of the holiday in New York.

Mr. Clemens entertained his guests by appearing accompanied by a youth garbed as his satanic majesty, to whom he was tied with baby ribbons. The humorist explained that his other self was "the little black man," who was responsible for all of his misdeeds in life. After declaring that he had finally conquered his "other self," and announcing that his will was now dominant, the "other self" proceeded to accumulate a "skate," to the apparent chagrin of the humorist. The bit of by-play gave Clemens opportunity to make much merriment. At the conclusion the evening—this morning—he declared: Next to the day I put on long trousers. this is the happiest occasion of my life."
